The Nancy Kay Holmes Renovation Project

Community support for what is now named the Nancy Kay Holmes Library goes back to 1889 and therefore predates the iconic Albright Memorial Library by five years. In that year the Green Ridge Library Association was formed to raise funds to construct the building that stands at the corner of Green Ridge Street and Wyoming Avenue today.

The original structure still stands proudly at the busy Green Ridge intersection, and from afar looks well-maintained and efficient. However, the current design of the library's interior, which dates from the mid-20th Century, no longer adequately fits the needs of the community.

The library...

- Needs an accessible entrance for disabled visitors and caregivers with strollers and other equipment. The only access sits atop steep and aging concrete steps facing Green Ridge Street.
- The dated interior conveys the long-overdue need for modernization.
- Enhancements include a new accessible entrance, renovated restrooms, and other changes to make the facility compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The renovations are estimated to cost $600,000.

With your support, and that of other residents, businesses and engaged foundations, we can make the Nancy Kay Holmes Library accessible for all members of Dunmore, Green Ridge, North Scranton, Pine Brook and other communities.

We ask for your financial support and your assistance in reaching out to others who can help support the needed renovations and upgrades of this 133 year old library.
